If your sons do not fall in love with the Mass, how can you be assured of a Priest to bring you the Sacraments on your deathbed?

Vigil of Saints Peter and Paul

Dear Parents of St. Thomas Becket's Altar Boys,

The serving schedule for the month of July, 2008 is attached. The following points are brought to your attention.

- This month is rather tame, liturgically speaking, with no extraordinary celebrations scheduled.
- Congratulations are in order for Sebastian Biersteker who passed the Latin Test this past week. I hope this fact gives encouragement to the boys who are still preparing for the test.
- Summer is upon us, and, as in years past, families are off holidaying and vacationing hither and yon about the country. If any of the boys on this schedule will be away for any of their assignments, I have not been made aware of it. It therefore falls upon the boys themselves to do some swapping and trading to make sure that their slots are covered. Keep in mind that if boy "A" makes an arrangement with boy "B" to cover an assignment, and boy "B" does not show up, boy "A" gets charged with the no-show. Make sure you choose a dependable boy to take your place. The rules published in detail in previous letters continue to apply.
- Regular Saturday Practices for July are suspended. I also cannot predict what will happen for August or any month following. The reason for this is in the announcement below.

As many of you have heard, I have been offered a position in Seattle. It is a really good job, and it has been a long time a-comin', but it is in Seattle. I start work there on July 1st. I would have preferred something that would have allowed me to stay here, but I go where God provides the opportunity and I try not to complain too much. I will be living up there during the week and coming back on weekends – and not necessarily every weekend – until the house sells and we can move up there permanently. It is hard to predict how long that will take, to be sure. Father Cooper will be making decisions on who might be assuming the direction of the Archconfraternity chapter here at St. Thomas Becket, and then such things as schedules and training will be given new life. I will continue to serve as long as logistics allow, but my office is in a "lame duck" mode. This applies to the website as well.

If you would like to have this server schedule sent to you via e-mail each month, I can do that. Send me e-mail at r1m1947@yahoo.com, identify yourself, and let me know that you would prefer this. You will receive this letter and the schedule, in Adobe Acrobat (pdf) format, when it has been completed. Printed copies will not be prepared for anyone on my e-mailing list. The Server schedule is also posted monthly on the Church's website. The address is (<http://www.sttbchurch.org>) and parents (we don't recommend that children be allowed internet access) are welcome to get it from there.

¡Viva Christo Rey!
